League Picks Van Blockland of Netherlands to Seek Settlement Basis

Bitter Debate by Envoys of Two Nations Shows Vilna at Bottom of Row

GENEVA, Dec. 7. (AP)—A European statesman who took active part in the Washington naval conference—Foreign Minister Van Blockland of the Netherlands—will seek a formula to solve the Polish-Lithuanian difficulties.

Mynheer Van Blockland, representative of The Netherlands on the Council of the League of Nations, was appointed by that body tonight as "special reporter" on the dispute after several hours of caustic oral attack and counter-attack by Premier Wladimiras of Lithuania and Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland.

Admission won. Even if the game little Lithuanian Premier did not win all members of the Council over to belief in his charges against Poland, he won their admiration for his pluck, perseverance and the mastery manner in which he presented his bill of accusation, which included charges of persecution of Lithuanian elements in the Vilna districts and asserted conspiracy of the Polish state to overthrow the Lithuanian government.

Later, when M. Zaleski, after spending some time in defensive arguments against the Wladimiras charges, asked Lithuania to forget the past and accept the Polish hand of friendship, M. Wladimiras replied that he greatly appreciated the offer but could not forget that several years ago in Paris, President Paderewski of Poland also offered his hand in friendship, yet within three weeks Gen. Zelinski asked the old Lithuanian capital, Vilna, which still is in the hands of Poland.

In pleading Poland's side of the controversy and in denying the charges of Wladimiras, M. Zaleski assured the Council that Poland desired only to dwell in peace and relations with her neighbor, but finds this difficult because Lithuania insists that a state of war exists between the two countries. Whatever else the Council does, M. Zaleski said, he hopes it will insist on arbitration of this technical state of war because it is the root of all the trouble between the two countries and if continued may develop into ac-

Then came the vote on Senator Norris' resolution to take oath or seal, but since Monday Norris had tempered his resolution with the clause which gave Smith his day in court and the doubtful advantage of a review of his case by the Reed special committee which includes, along with unyielding Reed, the radical Republican, young La Follette of Wisconsin, McNary, a Republican from Oregon, who occasionally kicks over the party traces, and Judge King of Utah, who is a Democrat.

West Virginia, who is a Republican, all liked this committee that he long since resigned from it. Smith's chances before such a jury are not sweet.

He is hardly likely to recommend the return of Vilna, but is expected to propound a resolution to the "state of war" as essential to the re-establishment of friendly relations and removal of the Baltic crisis as a danger to general European peace.

To the east six lives in Canada there is added today a belated report of the death of Theodore Hirschberg, 3 years of age, at Byrum, Mont., who perished Monday when he sought to take some heavy wraps to his sister at school.

Blizzard-swept Minnesota tonight feels an added menace to life and traffic in dropping temperatures, already well below the zero mark. Temperatures of 20 to 35 deg. below zero are reported in many sections where the blizzard has passed. Malita, Mont., reports 35 deg. below.

Jumbling train schedules and impeding other traffic almost to a point of cessation, the storm continues in full fury tonight through most of Minnesota, with Minneapolis and St. Paul experiencing their worst storm in four years.

Eight airplanes were badly damaged when the hangar of the Lincoln (Neb.) Army Air Corps was wrecked by wind today. The loss is estimated at $13,000.

CHILD LOST LIFE IN MONTANA STORM

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Dec. 7. (AP)—Sent to bring his 7-year-old sister from school, three blocks from his home, 3-year-old Theodore Hirschberg perished in Monday's blizzard, said word received today from Byrum. He is the only known victim of the State-wide storm.

A neighbor brought the girl home but the body of the boy was found 100 yards from his home.

CANADIAN DEATH TOLL RISES TO SIX

WINNIPEG (Man.) Dec. 7. (AP)—Belated reports today increased to six the known number of deaths from the blizzard that swept Western Canada Monday.

To the four deaths previously reported were added two when the body of an unidentified woman was found in a drift near Bonanza, Alta., and hope was abandoned for 7-year-old Johnny Huculak of Coalhurst, Alta.

Temperatures of from 10 to 35 deg. below zero are reported tonight throughout the storm-swept area with a sixty-mile gale raging over the Lake Superior region, where a sharp drop in temperature practically sealed the end of navigation from head of the lakes this season.

MONEY TALKS—ON TELEPHONE

But It Can't Come As Much As Persons Want Gold in Slot for Nickels

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—The holiday practice of many New Yorkers of depositing $5 gold pieces for nickels in the coin boxes of telephone pay stations has brought a protest from the New York Telephone Company.

What the company objects to is that most persons later want a refund, which entails considerable work for the auditing company. Records show that during the holiday season last year sixty-nine persons accidentally put $5 gold pieces into the boxes.

TIRES MADE OF GUAYULE

It is an erect, woody shrub, usually not more than two feet high, and under uncultivated conditions it grows to the height of five years. Its powers of vegetative reproduction are weak, a fact that added greatly to the difficulty of securing practical results.

Production of guayule rubber on a commercial basis is possible only by the use of the stages of cultivation that can be handled by machinery, thus eliminating the factor of labor in the process.

The guayule seeds are planted by mechanical drills, the little seedlings are watered, weeded and transplanted by machines and the seeds are removed by vacuum cleaners. Thus large-scale production is possible with a minimum of human effort.

Tests made by the United States Bureau of Standards at Washington in reporting the measure asked that the House pass upon the question and Chairman Butler of the Naval Committee announced today that he will see that this request is granted.

Although with diminishing force, the deluge of bills and resolutions continued to flood the House bill room. One resolution by Representative Black, Democrat, New York, requests an investigation by the House Foreign Affairs Committee of the "authenticity" of documents recently published by Hearst newspapers in which serious charges are made against President Calles of Mexico.

LA FOLLETTE REFUSED

Meanwhile an echo of the last Presidential campaign was heard at a meeting of the House Republican committee on committees, which refused to assign to Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, who supports the La Follette independent movement, the chairmanship of the House invalid-pension committee.

Although Nelson attended the last two Republican caucuses in the House and voted for Nicholas Longworth, Ohio for Speaker only two days ago, the chairmanship will go probably to W. T. Fitzgerald of Ohio, who always has been a regular in party affiliation.

Britain Joins New Dye Pact

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—British dye manufacturers have joined the international compact among their European competitors looking to control of output and price, the Commerce Department is informed today by cable from its Paris agents.

The French and German producers, the cable says, negotiated a compact at Frankfurt two weeks ago and the British now have been admitted to a share in it and merely are awaiting an approval from their own government before making their action public.

It is further added that Swiss manufacturers likewise are seeking admission.

By the tentative arrangement to which the European producers have bound themselves Germany will furnish 75 per cent of the dyestuffs for international trade, Great Britain 15 per cent and France 12.

American observers have been instructed by the Commerce Department to follow the situation closely and American representatives of dye manufacturers here have been informed as to the situation.

HOUSE BUCKLES DOWN SPEEDILY

Coolidge's Annual Budget Message Received

Deficiency Bill Then Taken Under Consideration

New Tax Measure Will Come Up Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The Senate machinery clogged by the Smith-Vare fight, Congress today could make only one-half start on the many legislative problems clamoring for attention, the House getting down to business promptly.

The House received the annual budget message from President Coolidge requesting the sum of $4,258,793,765 to meet the operating expenses of the government for the fiscal year 1928.

After hearing the communication read, the House plunged into consideration of its first legislative measure, the nearly $200,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill designed largely to replace a somewhat similar measure that was caught in the Senate filibuster some nine months ago.

It is the expectation to send this measure to the Senate by tomorrow night, but there is no assurance that that body being ready to give it attention for some time to come.

TAX BILL UP TOMORROW

House leaders announced that it is the plan to take up Friday the new $236,000,000 tax bill and that this, along with alien property legislation, will be disposed of before the Christmas recess.

Whether this plan will be carried out remains in doubt as notice was served today by members of the House Naval Affairs Committee that a fight will be made to incorporate funds in the first deficiency bill for elevation of the large guns on American battleships.

The Appropriations Committee in reporting the measure asked that the House pass upon the question and Chairman Butler of the Naval Committee announced today that he will see that this request is granted.

Although with diminishing force, the deluge of bills and resolutions continued to flood the House bill room. Huge Alaska Area

New River, Large Lake and Area Reconnoitered Covers

2000 Square Miles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—The United States Geological Survey has filled in another blank spot on the map of the world. In doing so it discovered a new river, a large lake and an active volcano.

The survey's Alaskan expedition of last summer has returned after mapping a territory of more than 2000 square miles in the Alaska range and adjacent country. This area heretofore has been shown as a blank and unknown place on the map of the world.

The party, headed by S. R. Cappe, a geologist, discovered the River Chakachanna, the drainage basin of which covers an area of more than 1100 miles. Its current has an average speed of fifteen miles an hour. The river rises in what Mr. Cappe described as a "super lake," named Chakachanna, twenty-three miles long, hemmed in behind lofty mountains and surrounded by a great glacier.

The mountain peaks in the section are rugged pinnacles which could be climbed, if at all, with great difficulty. The highest peak is Mt. Spurr.

BUDAPEST (Hungary), Dec. 7. (AP)—Two days of disorder, during which three men were stabbed to death, many persons injured and several buildings destroyed, have occurred in the town of Nagyvarad, Rumania, near the Rumanian-Hungarian border, reports from the frontier say.

The demonstrations were at first directed against the Jews and then against the Magyars. Nagyvarad formerly belonged to Hungary, but was annexed to Rumania.

FIRST DISORDERS SUNDAY
The first disorders occurred Sunday but are said to have been comparatively unimportant. On Monday there were somewhat bloody conflicts with the result that citizens were afraid to leave their homes.

The attendance of several thousand citizens from various parts of Transylvania for a congress was the occasion for the disorders. The congress was held under the supervision of Prof. Cuzco, noted as an anti-Semite.

A man named Boned, suspected of spying on the proceedings of the congress, was stabbed to death. Mr. Vajnslovicz, owner of the Hotel Du Parc, which was attacked by students, was also stabbed to death as was an unnamed Hungarian actor. Many persons are reported to have been seriously injured.

OFFICES DESTROYED
The offices of two Hungarian newspapers, a printing plant, the offices of the Catholic Union Society and the residence of Chief Rabbi Leopold Kockeckel were destroyed. The police were helpless. Gen-

SAN MATEO, Dec. 7. (Exclusive)—And then the cows got out.

Hugh Ridges submits his bid to the hall of misfortune, when endowed, on these fourteen points:

1. An auto accident which bumbled him up so he had to go to a hospital for patching.
2. While in the hospital a thief took $40 from his home.
3. When he went back to the police station to report it, his sixty milk cows got loose and trampled some of the finest gardens and flower beds in Burlingame.
4. To fourteen—the prospective damages to be paid owners of the gardens and flower beds.

The citizens, who are said to be afraid to leave their homes and both police and soldiers are reported to be patrolling the streets. The city is in a state of panic. All shops are closed.

Many persons also are reported to have been seriously injured. Demonstrations at Arad, Transylvania.

DISOLUTION OF RUMANIAN
PARLIAMENT PLEA REPEATED
BUCHAREST (Rumania), Dec. 7. (AP)—Amid the prolonged cheers of his supporters, Julius Maniu, leader of the Nationalist Peasant party, this evening for the immediate dissolution of that body and the holding of new elections.

"We have no confidence in the present government, nor in its system of governing," he thundered to the assembly.

Maniu's speech at Premier Vintila Bratianu had informed the Nationalist Peasants refused their "most generous offer of collaboration."

CHANGE DEMANDED
Speaking with a vigor and boldness that astonished his supporters and adversaries alike, Maniu shouted:

"The country demands a complete change in the whole system of governing, which has brought the nation so much misery and disaster. Public opinion and the country as a whole are utterly opposed to the present illegal autocratic regime. The best proof of this is that you have not dared to face free elections under the existing government, or under the existing administration."

Bratianu declared in reply that he had offered collaboration to the Peasants because he wished to show abroad that there is no danger of internal political disturbances in Rumania, while the situation in Europe is uncertain.

HOME STRENGTH IMPORTANT
"Our strength abroad," he said, "depends on our strength at home. We do not intend to relinquish power; our program is based on the exact needs of the country. The opposition does not possess experience in governing."

"We will continue the work of consolidating the country begun by my brother, and in addition, will strike a new note by cultivating closer relations with all countries, irrespective of which side they fought in the great war."

A resolution of confidence in the government was adopted by a large majority.

Nervy Actress
'Calls' Riotous
Yale Students

NEW HAVEN (Conn.), Dec. 7. (AP)—Miss Roberta Arnold, starring in "Sisters" at the Shubert Theater here, stepped completely out of character tonight after she had been booed and cat-called by a number of new Yale fraternity members and proceeded to tell the students just what she thought of them. Her action brought a sudden end to what appeared to be developing into a young riot.

From the moment the curtain went up in the first act of the play the Yale men, theater attendants said, proceeded to "razz" everything and everyone connected with the show. When Miss Arnold made her first appearance she was greeted by a shower of carnations which the fraternity men took from their buttonholes and hurled on the stage.

One student was taken into custody by police but was later released. Tonight's incident recalled the student demonstration some years ago during the appearance here of Gaby Deslys, the famous French actress, at the Hyperion Theater, the interior of which virtually was wrecked.

Blanton Aims
Blow at Wet
Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Impediment and dishonorable discharge of any Senator, Representative, judge or any other employee of the government who purchases intoxicating liquor from a "bootlegger" is demanded in a resolution introduced today by Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas.

Another resolution offered by the Texan would bar diplomats in the United States from importing liquor for their personal use, and make diplomatic traffic law violations punishable by the United States.

SANTIAGO (Chile), Dec. 7. (AP)—A newspaper report from La Paz says that two Chilean soldiers were captured in Bolivian territory after exchanging shots with a detachment of Bolivian troops.

The Foreign Minister has refused to comment on this incident, although he has said the necessary authorization for the publication of the report in the local newspapers. The War Department is silent.

Americas Plead for Better Communication

Conference to be Called of Telegraph Experts

GENEVA, Dec. 7. (AP)—A resolution looking toward the creating of better facilities for the movement of news dispatches concerning the League of Nations was adopted by the League Council today.

The resolution calls for a conference of experts from Switzerland, France and Great Britain for the establishment of a direct telegraph line between Geneva and London in order to create the necessary facilities for the transmission of news to North and South America and the Pacific.

Francisco Jose Urrutia of Colombia and Maschiro Abachi of Japan supported the resolution.

CHAMBERLAIN IMPRESSED
The question was originated by the Associated Press so as to obtain improvement in communications between Geneva and the United States, Latin America and the Far East.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, impressed by the earnestness of the speaker for improved communication with London as a great transmission center of news for North and South America and the Far East, promised to submit the report and the speeches of the Council members to the British Minister of Telegraphs.

He said he was certain that this Minister would do everything possible to obtain quick dissemination of news about the activities of the League of Nations.

The report declared that the Council was better qualified than anyone to recognize the extreme international importance of the prompt transmission of the press in distant countries of information on League debates. From this viewpoint, the report said, rapid communication between Geneva and London is of the greatest international importance.

WILL ARRANGE WIRE
The Associated Press suggestion, which was supported by the International Association of Journalists accredited to the League, now goes to the communications section of the League, which has been requested by the Council to make every effort to reach a quick solution by convoking a conference of experts to arrange for a direct wire from Geneva to London.

The Council also approved various resolutions of the International Press Conference, declaring that the carrying out of these resolutions by the governments would reduce possibility of misunderstandings between peoples. These subjects include protection of press news against "pincer" and abolition of censorship in peace times.

APPEAL TO

CHAIN MADE

Originator of Coolidge Candidacy Move Unable to Stop His Scheme

BOSTON, Dec. 7. (AP)—Philip M. Tucker, Boston investment broker, is finding it difficult to stop the circulation of the chain petition which he started a month ago urging President Coolidge to run in 1932, despite the fact that the President definitely has eliminated himself as a candidate for another term.

Mr. Tucker said tonight that while he had taken immediate steps to recall the petition as soon as he was informed that the President did not approve of it, enthusiastic responses still were pouring into his office from all parts of the country. Returns already have run into the thousands in spite of his efforts to have the plan abandoned, he reported.

To prevent the chain petition from receiving further circulation Mr. Tucker tonight issued a statement in which he said:

"From this time on it is the duty of every American citizen who has hitherto favored President Coolidge for re-election to strive earnestly and honestly to quiet on some other candidate. President Coolidge, by his every act, has proved that he will obey duty at any cost but it is no longer right to try to try to force his hand."

Four Indicted
on Government
Theft Charges

KANSAS CITY (Kan.), Dec. 7. (AP)—Four officers or civilian employees of Fort Riley, Kan., were indicted by the federal grand jury here yesterday on charges in connection with a gigantic theft ring which has caused losses of thousands of dollars to the government. Frank H. McFarland, assistant United States District Attorney, announced today.

Three of the men have been arrested, McFarland said, and the fourth, Lieut. Ralph O. Richards, was expected to be taken into custody today at Fort Worth, N. Y., where he is now detained.

The other three, McFarland said, are H. O. Oines, 50 years of age, former chief clerk in the quartermaster's office at Fort Riley; A. M. Dravo, quartermaster property sergeant at Fort Riley; and Howard J. Rieber, civilian employee in the quartermaster's office at the fort.

The specific charge on which the men were indicted yesterday was the asserted sale of 700 cement sacks, said to have been stolen from the quartermaster's department.

He Didn't Choose
but Was Drafted

HOLYOKE (Mass.), Dec. 7. (AP)—A silent candidate who did not choose to run, who spent no money in his campaign and who made only three oral statements, will be mayor of this city for the coming year.

Fred O. Burnham, whose first job was as driver of an express wagon and who has amassed a fortune in the coal-and-grain business, was forced into the contest by his friends and defeated three other candidates yesterday. Two of them forfeited. His plurality was 1933 votes in a total of 18,860.

They escaped with $1150.

DOTY STARTS FOR PARIS ON WAY HOME

MARSHFIELD, Dec. 7. (AP)—Bennett J. Doty, Blount, Miss., discharged Foreign Legionnaire, left tonight for Paris on his way home. Doty having shaved his diminutive moustache, passed quite unnoticed when he climbed into the sleeper, carrying a green card-board not containing all his worldly possessions. He admitted that he is a Marine without regret, and said also that he had received word from his family expressing joy over the tidings of his release. Doty will stay in Paris for two days, sailing from Cherbourg Saturday.

Committee May Change
Old Agreement

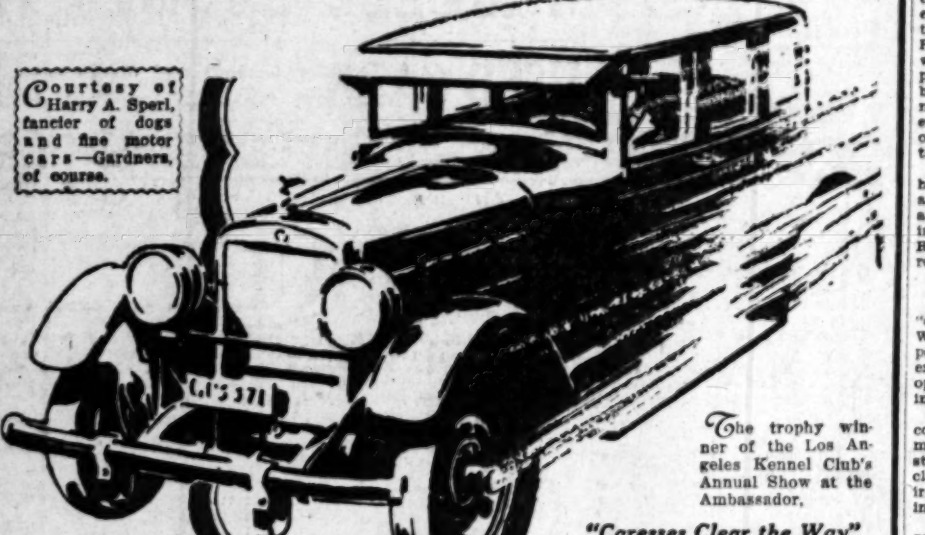

DALLAS (Tex.), Dec. 7. (AP)—Minor league grievances over the present major-league draft code, and the controversy over the life of the minor league players, are being discussed in a session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues here today.

It is questioned whether it is a long question, but the matter of the life of the major-league players was referred to a committee for a construction of apparently conflicting laws.

The major-league agreement was drawn up seven years ago to furnish the upper and the lower strata of baseball a code of green relations between the major leagues and the smaller circuits. One clause of the agreement seems to indicate that the President is to last seven years, in which case the document would become inoperative next season. In another section of the agreement the language apparently indicates that the President is to be binding during the life of the league. Commissioner of Baseball, still another section of TEN precious years taken right out of your life just because you didn't find time to keep your teeth in good order! That's just exactly what will happen if you allow decay to lead to teeth with poison sacs at their roots.

It's not a pretty thought but it's gospel truth. The poison so generated cannot but sap your vitality—and you need your full strength to live out the allotted three score years and ten.

If your teeth bother you in any way, use plain horse sense: see a dentist. The E. R. Parker System of Dentistry is painless both to nerves and pocket book. Let us examine your teeth free of charge.

Pomona Votes Merritt Most Valuable Man

CLAREMONT, Dec. 8. (Exclusive)—Harold Merritt, the strong, silent man of Pomona, was last night voted the most valuable player on this year's Sagehen football team and was presented with the Best Trophy by members of the squad. Merritt finished his third year on the blue eleven and was one of the outstanding players of the Southern Conference as a halfback. He was one of the main cogs in the winning of the championship and well deserved the honor conferred upon him. Merritt is captain of the basketball team and a two-year man in baseball, also.

Nixon Honored at Alumni Feed

Eugene Nixon, Pomona College grid coach and director of athletics, was honored last night by the Sagehen alumni association with a banquet at the University Club. Several hundred former Pomona students gathered to pay tribute to the Sagehen mentor, who has turned out a flock of champions during his twelve years at the Claremont institution. Bruce Wallace, '16, was a 2-2-1 master, while Paul Walker, '23, was in charge of all arrangements for the affair. Nixon was the principal speaker of the evening and he told the assembled guests something of the inside workings of his team.

Complete List of Men Given for East-West Game at Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (AP)—The complete list of western players invited to participate in an East-West game here, the 26th inst., as a benefit for the Shriner's Crippled Children's Hospital was announced today as follows:

Ends — Sikes, Texas A. and M.; Schuk, Washington; O. S. Douglas, Washington.

Tackles — Yoder, Olympic Club (formerly Carnegie Tech); Hikka, St. Mary's; Kuhn, Washington; Matthews, Texas Christian.

Guards — Brewster, Olympic Club; Diehl, Idaho; Wright, Washington; Helmer, Southern California.

Centers — Carothers, St. Ignace; Coulson, Army.

Quarterbacks — Meeker, Washington State; Mann, Southern Methodist.

Halfbacks — Hunt, Texas Aggies; Kier, Southern California; Kutch, Iowa; Tereah, Washington; Gilmore, Army.

Fullback — Wilson, Washington.

Officials in charge of the contest pointed out that twenty-one stars had received invitations to play, although the complete squad will only number twenty. One of those receiving a bid, however, has been placed in the doubtful class.

Los Angeles, through the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, yesterday offered its official appreciation to the 1927 edition of the Thundering Herd for its successful season on the gridiron in a luncheon at the Biltmore attended by nearly 1500 men and women.

Staid business men, dignified professional men, and a goodly attendance of smartly gowned women threw all else to the four winds but their sincere regard for the college youths who, by their prowess in football, have carried the name of the University of Southern California—and thereby added to the world-wide fame of the Southland—to all parts of the country. As the individual stars of the team were introduced, and when Coach Howard Jones was presented, these same men and women stood and cheered for minutes in as great a tribute to clean sportsmanship and American youth as ever given in this city.

D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presiding over the meeting, spoke briefly in praise of the team, its coach and its record. He told of the value of such high-class athletic teams in the development of the Southland as well as the development of future leaders of industry and business.

With more than forty trackmen reporting for practice, Coach Cromwell started work on his 1928 S.C. cinderpath team yesterday afternoon.

As usual, Cromwell was greeted by several promising hurdlers, including Jimmy Payne, Cliff Reynolds, Charles Weber. If Merton Kaer returns to school, as he plans to do, the Trojans will be well fixed for material.

Reynolds is in good shape again after a poor season last year due to an injured knee. He will be the Trojan mainstay in the high hurdles and is expected to get down under after ten seconds. Payne, who holds the world high school record for the low hurdles, will be number one man in that event. His prep mark was 25.8, set in the Coliseum. Alex Graham and Duncan Powers, the latter a former Polytechnic hurdler, will give the Trojans plenty of strength in the low barrier event.

LOWELL GIRL CREW WINS SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Lowell High School's ten-oared crew today won the annual junior race for girls in competition with four other local high-school and junior-high school crews.

RABBIT PUNCHES

In that period the Golden Bears won forty-two games, lost one and tied two, and their total of points, if figured up, undoubtedly would run away over the 1123 registered by Notre Dame in a similar period.

For four years, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, the Bears were undefeated, and in one year alone—1924—they amassed a total of 500 points, nearly half of the Notre Dame total in five years.

The Bear total for 1921 is not available, but in four principal games Andy Smith's boys scored as follows: Oregon, 39 to 0; U.S.C., 38 to 7; Washington, 72 to 3; and Stanford, 42 to 7. That's 191 points against their four strongest rivals. You can make your own guesses about the California scores against weaker opponents in the other five games of the schedule.

The 1926-'27 teams were the real California "wonder" eleven, and although the Bears went through 1923 with a clean slate their remarkable superiority was ebbing, and Washington State, Stanford and Stanford each held the Bears to 9-0-0 scores. In 1924, the Bears were beaten by the Olympic Club, 15 to 6.

Incidentally, the guys who are hectoring for Notre Dame's scalp at Berkeley, should look up Baggy Bagshaw's record at Washington, before they begin clanging too loudly. Bils has only been attempting to fill Andy Smith's shoes for two seasons, and he certainly did nobly this year after the debacle of last season.

By way of comparison, Bagshaw came to Washington after coaching successfully at Everett High for ten years, and it took him three years to put a team on the field that could give California any kind of a battle, and five years to win a championship. Baggy's first team was licked by the Olympic Club, 15 to 6, and Baggy's boys finally won the Coast title by the skinny score of 7 to 6, in 1925. In his second year Prior's team held southern California, the strongest eleven on the Coast, 15 to 6, Stanford, 13 to 6, and Washington, 6 to 0, and I can certainly see no reason for yipping about a new coach. Price has made good.

Coast Conference Meeting to Get Under Way Today

Protest Looms About Bears Using Aggies

PORTLAND (Ore.) Dec. 7. (AP)—Representative coaches and graduate managers of the ten universities and colleges comprising the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference, convened here tonight to draw up a 1928 football schedule. It was hoped the schedule would be completed tomorrow.

The gathering was informal although regarded as necessary in furtherance of tomorrow's task. The dates of only a few games had been determined late today.

Stanford will play California in the traditional "big game" on the last Saturday before Thanksgiving, as usual. The date will be November 24, and the place Berkeley.

The University of Oregon and Oregon State Agricultural College, have agreed on November 17 for their big encounter, to be played at Corvallis, California, and Washington have agreed definitely that their game will be played in Seattle, November 16. The following Saturday Washington will play Palo Alto.

TENTATIVE DATE Washington State College tonight had tentatively agreed to go to Seattle for the second consecutive year to play Washington. The date probably will be October 27, giving Washington an open Saturday before meeting California.

The Washington-Oregon game, which is to be played in Portland, was on uncertain footing tonight as far as date was concerned.

Much depended upon whether Washington schedules a Thanksgiving Day game in Seattle with Southern California. Darwin Meisner, Washington graduate manager, thought Washington should play a home game on Thanksgiving Day. Jack Bonasol, University of Oregon graduate manager, was holding out for the Thanksgiving date with Washington in the Multnomah Stadium here, but may have to be satisfied with a game on October 13.

Coast Conference Meeting to Get Under Way Today

Protest Looms About Bears Using Aggies

PORTLAND (Ore.) Dec. 7. (AP)—Representative coaches and graduate managers of the ten universities and colleges comprising the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Conference, convened here tonight to draw up a 1928 football schedule. It was hoped the schedule would be completed tomorrow.

The gathering was informal although regarded as necessary in furtherance of tomorrow's task. The dates of only a few games had been determined late today.

Stanford will play California in the traditional "big game" on the last Saturday before Thanksgiving, as usual. The date will be November 24, and the place Berkeley.

The University of Oregon and Oregon State Agricultural College, have agreed on November 17 for their big encounter, to be played at Corvallis, California, and Washington have agreed definitely that their game will be played in Seattle, November 16. The widow rescued by police from the funeral pyre of her husband, subsequently died of her burns and her body thrown into the sacred Ganges near Patna.
Hundreds of rupees were paid for possession of her garments which are regarded as sacred by thousands of Hindus. Full 15,000 Hindus fought to obtain fragments of her clothing.

SUN SPOTS AFFECT BIRDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (Exclusive)—The theory that sun spots may be the cause of the mysterious fluctuation in numbers of game birds and animals was advanced before the fourteenth annual meeting of the National Game Conference here today. No less an authority than Maj. E. A. Goldman, in charge of Federal bird and game reservations, made these suggestions.
It is an acknowledged fact among game experts, he said, that the number of birds and game animals fluctuates in cycles of eleven years. This regular fluctuation, he continued, might have some definite connection with sun spots.
"Astronomers believe," he said, "that sun spots have a marked effect on weather on the earth. They may cause varying temperatures and magnetic storms, with heavy precipitation over the whole planet or in some, which shift from year to year, returning perhaps in the same belt in about eleven years."
"The sun spot cycle theory, if correct, means periodically more abundant rain, and through increased plant growth more food for herbivorous species, which would favor the multiplication in numbers of both herbivorous and carnivorous 'hat feed upon them in the climatic zone affected."

against John J. Gorman, former Con-

Muesey's books made by Gorman in

FROSH WIN WELLESLEY BATTLE

Yearlings Seen Creeping to Secret Attic Meeting Place; Sophs Try to Foil Election of Officers; Eyes of Many Girls Well Blacked

BOSTON, Dec. 7. (Exclusive)—
Three hundred Wellesley freshmen foiled a concerted attack by sophomores on their attic meeting place and, at a secret session just before dawn, succeeded in electing class officers. The girls administered and received numerous black eyes and otherwise had an enjoyable time during the session.
One girl fainted in the darkness
while the attack was at its height.
Others were dragged downstairs by the heels. The battle lasted an hour.
Heroines were plentiful, and the sophomores failed ignominiously, for the newly-elected freshman president,
Virginia Chapman, a Portland, Me., emerged from the melee without a second-year hand being laid upon her.
Arrangements had been made with the faculty for the secret meeting in the attic of No. 20 House. Fire escapes were left open, but all exits were secured from the inside. Entrance was blocked, but swift and sudden exit was made possible.

Human Heart's
Electricity Now
Photographed

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—Electric current generated by the human heartbeat can be recorded photographically, Dr. C. E. Kenneth Mees told the forty-eighth annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers today.

Through a further development of the process by which speech and music are reproduced photographically, he said the weak currents generated by the heart can be photographed, measured and used in the diagnosis of heart lesions.
Dr. Mees, a director of research at the Eastman laboratories at Rochester, N. Y., spoke on the use of photography in industry.

Britain to Try
Suspected Spies

LONDON, Dec. 7. (AP)—George Hansen, a German, and Wilfrid Francis McCartney, described as an Irish-American, were committed for trial before the Central Criminal Court on charges brought under the Official Secrets Act, by a magistrate in Bow-street today.
The two prisoners are asserted to have attempted to collect information about the British armed forces, particularly the air force. At a previous hearing it was brought out that the men were gathering information believed to be useful to Soviet Russia.

CHICAGO MANUFACTURERS
LOSE VALUABLE TRADE

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. (Exclusive)— Mayor Thompson's anti-British campaign has cost Chicago manufacturers orders totaling $1,500,000, it was declared today in an address by John F. McKeon, export counselor, before the City Club.

RADIO MAKERS AROUSED
The orders, resulting from an Australian pool, were placed in America but not with Chicago firms "because of the anti-British attitude expressed by the Mayor," the Australian representative told Mayor McAndrew.
Equipment comprised a large part of the order and as a result Chicago radio manufacturers are aroused thoroughly.

"The attitude toward this city," said Mr. McKeon in his address, "was expressed last Friday by a New Zealander when he said his self-respect would not permit him to buy in a city so thoroughly anti-British as Chicago."

FEELING GENERAL

Mr. McKeon, who in his position as adviser to exporters has made eighteen trips around the world, asserted that the same feeling is general throughout British possessions. He pointed out that British territory comprises 8 per cent of the world and British subjects 80 per cent of the population.
"It is imperative that the world's present opinion of this city be changed," said Mr. McKeon. "It is our duty to assist in freeing our backward people who are being used by unscrupulous politicians to free themselves from racial prejudice and religious bigotry. It is of economic necessity that we have the goodwill of the entire world and particularly of the British Empire."

Three Indicted
in Bank Looting

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Owen M. Sullivan, indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy and theft of a total of $89,000 from the Anglo and London
Paris National Bank here, surrendered to the United States Marshal today and was released on $20,000 bail.
Arthur V. Scott, former assistant cashier of the bank, indicted with Sullivan, also surrendered and was released on $5000 bail. Knud B.
Hogberg, Scott's assistant, is expected by Federal authorities to surrender tomorrow. Sullivan, importer of coffee, sugar and similar goods, was charged with having obtained the money from the bank through conspiracy with the young bankers.
The trio was indicted yesterday.

10,000
Women
Send Everything, even their Daintiest Garments, to TROY Laundry

THE difference in laundries is not so much in facilities as in the desire to render service. It all depends on the ideals of the organization, the amount of thought and care and human skill exercised.
There is in Los Angeles a laundry to which you may safely send all your laundry—your precious garments, fine table linens, dainty babies and downy blankets, as well as ordinary washing. Troy laundry each in a special, separate and scientific way, so that your clothes not only last longer, but come back to you each week as fresh, clean and sanitary as human skill can make them.
More than 10,000 discriminating women of Los Angeles have turned to Troy for their solution of this once vexing problem. In many households, Troy is a tradition, handed down from mother to daughter. Troy has been providing superior laundry service in Los Angeles for nearly 40 years.

If you are dissatisfied with the way your family washing works out, try Troy this week. See if you do not feel like saying, as thousands of others have said, "Troy Laundry the

HASTE URGED ON DAM CONFEREES

Gov. Dern Flicks Engineers to Speed Up Efforts

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (Exclusive)—Telegrams today from Gov. Dern of Utah expressing the hope that California, Arizona and Nevada engineers and commissioners can agree on the cost of distribution of Boulder dam power quickly, so he can reassemble the seven-State Colorado River conference, brought from the engineers who have been in session here several days the statement that at least a tentative agreement may be attained by Saturday of this week. The prediction, qualified with its usual "if," was made by George Malone, State Engineer of Nevada, who is chairman of the present tri-State conference. "If the government builds Boulder dam," said Malone, "it will be non-taxable and Nevada and Arizona thus will lose rightful compensation for the use of their natural resources. Thus the matter of equitable compensation becomes important to agreement on the whole project." Chairman Malone also verified publicly statements previously made that the real stumblingblock in the path of the State conferees is the rate per kilowatt hour which California will be expected to pay Nevada and Arizona for Boulder dam hydroelectric power. At the conclusion of the Denver conference several weeks ago the three States were divided on a difference of six-tenths of a mill per kilowatt hour, California having offered four-tenths of a mill and Arizona and Nevada demanding one mill. Malone declared the consumption of power in Southern California is increasing at the rate of 125,000 horsepower per year and that this will have to be taken into consideration by the engineers attempting to arrive at an agreement for submission to the commissioners of the three States.

STOCKS OFF ON POLITICAL NEWS

High-Priced Speculation
Brunt of Attack

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (P)—The stock market today was characterized by a general decline, with a particular emphasis on the political news surrounding the Coolidge withdrawal from the presidential race.

The market opened with a slight advance, but soon turned downward as the news of Coolidge's withdrawal was widely reported. The steel industry also contributed to the decline, with reports of a disappointing performance.

High-priced speculation was particularly vulnerable to the market's downward movement, with many of these stocks experiencing significant losses.

The overall sentiment was one of pessimism, with investors looking for a more stable political environment before committing to long-term investments.

The market closed lower than it opened, with a net loss of several points. The volume of trading was moderate, reflecting the cautious nature of the day's activity.

Analysts expect the market to remain volatile in the near future, as the political situation continues to unfold.

The first mortgage bond market also saw a decline, with many issues selling at a discount to their face value.

The overall trend for the week has been downward, with investors showing a preference for cash and short-term instruments.

The first mortgage bond market is expected to continue its decline, with many issues remaining unsold.

The overall market sentiment remains negative, with investors waiting for a clearer picture of the political situation.

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—It is well known that long-range market movements are based now, as in the past, on three real underlying factors, namely, politics, business and money.

Overnight President Coolidge set at rest all doubt on what he meant by his cryptic statement of last August, thus making politics a more potent factor. Analysis of the November steel ingot figures, and comparison with previous years was, to say the least, discouraging, and the shipping of gold to London for the first time in twelve years, while regarded as a special transaction, brought the future of the money market up for discussion.

Steel in Sharp Reaction
Naturally speculative attention was focused in no small degree on steel common because of the likely influence of the acute weakness in the stock on the rest of the market.

Heavy liquidation and short selling brought a severe reaction in the old-line trader, the decline being precipitated by disappointment over the low rate of November ingot output, the slowing down of mill operations, and the lack of new inquiry, except from railroads for first-quarter delivery.

Indications are that December ingot output may fall below last month.

National Biscuit Expansion
Something of an explanation for the remarkable strength in National Biscuit, notwithstanding the recent weakness in other baking company shares, was found in reports current today of a more rapid growth of its bread business than had been looked for.

Rumor today had it that the company is quietly acquiring new bread-making facilities around the country. This, of course, would account for talk of greater competition for other companies, which has been current of late, and would likewise explain, if true, the strength in the company's stock. Another capital adjustment is being looked forward to sometime next year.

Selling the Utilities
Some of the public utility shares, notably those of some of the large holding companies like American Waterworks, were under pressure of considerable liquidation, and speculative selling. The steady stream of offerings in that group was not impeded by any change in the basic situation in the industry. Earnings are running ahead of previous years in the case of most of the larger companies. But traders were reducing holdings against the possibility of an early demand in Congress for an investigation of the industry.

THE INVESTOR

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—An indication of the popularity among investors won by public utility preferred stocks is provided by the recent authorization by the Alabama Power Company of an issue of $50,000,000 of preferred.

It was not many years ago that leading power companies were compelled to place a 7 per cent coupon on preferred shares, while other companies raised capital through stocks bearing an 8 per cent coupon. Investors have come to learn, however, that companies of this type provide a degree of stability in earnings scarcely approached in any other industry. Even railroads are likely to feel the effect of business depression more seriously than operating power and electric concerns.

An interesting presentation of this type is found in a circular prepared by W. F. Friesch & Co.

A point often overlooked by investors is the relation of funded debt to preferred capitalization. While it is true the "most significant test of safety is the number of times the company earns combined interest charges and preferred dividends," it is pointed out.

This is made clearly an example. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway last year, for instance, earned its preferred dividend of 6 per cent over, and in the same year the Atchafalaya covered its preferred requirements about ten times. "But, com-

Factors for Investors to Consider in Selection of Utility Preferred Issues binding interest charges and preferred dividends, it is found that Atchafalaya earned these total charges four times over, compared with one and one-half times for Fisco."

Another factor to be considered is the call price, which gains importance from the fact that many companies recently have taken advantage of favorable money-market conditions to replace high-coupon preferred issues with securities carrying a lower rate.

A third factor that investors should keep in mind is the relation between preferred stocks of operating and holding companies. Stocks owned in operating companies.

"It is evident that, should there be a general decline in earnings of operating companies, it would obviously have a serious effect on dividends received on common stocks owned by the holding company."

Plan Approved for Bay City's Curb Exchange

(Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (P)—At a special meeting of members of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange here late today the members approved organization of the San Francisco Curb Exchange, immediately changing of the name of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange to the San Francisco Curb Exchange and authorized purchase of the building now occupied by the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

All members of the former San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange held memberships in the new curb exchange which is expected to be in operation soon after the first of the year. Permanent officers and governing board of the curb exchange will be named in January, when the fiscal year of the curb begins.

Under the new plan the San Francisco Curb Exchange, composed of membership and organization of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange, will deal only in listed stocks and bonds which have met the requirements of the exchange. All other securities will be handled from the exchange and will be dealt in on the new curb exchange.

London Daily Radio
BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY
(Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

LONDON, Dec. 7. (P)—Wireless markets were sentimentally cheerful today on the shipment of gold to London from New York, but the money market was not greatly impressed because it was not regarded as an exchange transaction. Moreover, unless the gold came to London quite naturally and without any disturbance, the American market would probably have limited influence here.

Trading, however, was still goodish, with considerable speculative public buying. Announcements of the United States naval program produced no effect here though, of course, it uses the likelihood of unnecessary expenditure for other countries.

Some interest was taken in the American loan to Greece, as it was considered likely to accelerate progress of the flotation of the Greek international refugee loan, which was reduced from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000 by reason of the advance from the United States.

In spite of a moderate reaction in sterling exchange, which was attributed to President Coolidge's message, expectation of further gold shipments from America continued. However, no significance was attached to today's small operation and the price of gold declined here.

DISYART ABSORBER

Dysart Manufacturing Company, a California corporation, will manufacture a new type of shock absorber, according to its application filed with J. M. Friedlander, State Corporation Commissioner. It was permitted to issue all of its 2000 shares. Of these, 1000 were authorized to be issued to the company, and the balance to the public.

PACIFIC INVESTING
DECLARES DIVIDEND

Directors of the Pacific Investing Corporation yesterday authorized the payment of the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on the corporation's first preferred stock for the three months' period ended December 31, 1927. This dividend is payable to stockholders of record the 15th inst. and is at the annual rate of 6 per cent. In making the announcement, Henry McKee, president, stated that the operations and earnings of the corporation for the quarter had been satisfactory to the directors.

Another factor to be considered is the call price, which gains importance from the fact that many companies recently have taken advantage of favorable money-market conditions to replace high-coupon preferred issues with securities carrying a lower rate.

A third factor that investors should keep in mind is the relation between preferred stocks of operating and holding companies. Stocks owned in operating companies.

"It is evident that, should there be a general decline in earnings of operating companies, it would obviously have a serious effect on dividends received on common stocks owned by the holding company."

While it is true the "most significant test of safety is the number of times the company earns combined interest charges and preferred dividends," it is pointed out.

This is made clearly an example. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway last year, for instance, earned its preferred dividend of 6 per cent over, and in the same year the Atchafalaya covered its preferred requirements about ten times. "But, com-

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (F)—Bond prices and trading both derived stimulation in today's market from President Coolidge's message to Congress. The President's retention of his decision not to be a candidate next year apparently had no effect and bond traders ignored the possible significance of shipment of $10,000,000 gold to London. It was generally believed in Wall street that no broad movement of the metal to London, with consequent increase in local money rates, was in prospect.

COURT SUFFERS FROM DOG DAYS

Three Canine Members of Audience at Trial Over Shooting of Peter The Great Get Weary of Hearing Lawyers and Start Argument of Their Own

Three dogs, bored with the prolixity of lawyers, started out yesterday to settle a lawsuit with dispatch and plenty of enthusiasm. The dogs, which were brought to the trial by their owners, were named Peter, Faust and Thunder. The case at trial was the suit of Edward Faust against Fred Crickets for damages of $250,000 for the shooting of Peter the Great, dog actor in the films. It has been a trial for a week. Ostrom, son of the great Peter, has been in court every day with Faust, his master. Recently Crickets has been bringing Albert von Saarland, former national champion, to the sessions with him. Yesterday he added Thunder, brother of Peter, to the former champion, to his entourage.

For the first two hours of the hearing yesterday the dogs sat about patiently, evidencing their boredom by occasional yawns. Then Albert Hutchinson of another court came in on an errand. Thunder's tail projected into the aisle and Hutchinson's foot came down on it. Thunder yelped and took a nip at Hutchinson's leg. Hutchinson exclaimed in surprise, and Ostrom dashed into the picture. In a second the placid courtroom was transformed into a seething cauldron of battle. Albert was in the argument in a flash, and the air resounded with yelps, growls and canine imprecations. The juryman showed more interest in the proceedings than they have for several days. Judge Marsh hurriedly called for his bailiff to restore order. The bailiff, Hutchinson and Clerk Scott deployed and surrounded the dogs. At an opportune moment each seized a dog and dragged it away. The impetuous dog died as the combatants were led off, each to a separate room. The jury showed its disappointment, the lawyers resumed their verbiage, and the trial by process of law was on again.

Two policemen yesterday corroborated Crickets' explanation that Peter the Great was shot accidentally by a bullet that glanced up from the pavement. Crickets contends that he shot simply to frighten Faust and his party away from his home, as he feared they meant him harm.

Hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of wonderful merchandise brought by ships and trains from the far and near corners of the earth are piled high along hundreds of miles of aisles in Los Angeles stores today. Christmas shoppers, only fourteen more shopping days remain in which to make a choice among the myriad of articles on display.

WHAT the Police Court has to say about the iniquity of the unscrupulous showgirls of Main street doesn't matter so much after all. The case already has been decided by the public.

Naked young ladies have been voted to be a bore—which is a punishment far more frightful than sending them to jail in heels.

The theaters of New York which formerly specialized in shows that exhibited girls clad in nothing but a Ganga Din "piece of twinkly rag" have turned over a new leaf. The choruses in the shows that have opened this fall in New York have worn skirts.

THE ROCKEFELLER BOYS

The care that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., bestows on teaching his young sons the value of a dollar indicates that in this family it will not be a case of "shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in three generations."

The same is true of many other rich American families. As America grows older it will be less foolish. They tell me most of the boys of the wealthy old English families take care of their inherited fortunes with shrewd business sagacity.

The bali Jove Britisher with a monocle sees considerable through that one-barrel "eyeglass."

RAM FOR COLOMBO!

When Mayor Bill Thompson of Chicago starts in to rewrite American history his life is due to become complicated.

The Italian citizens already have sent a firm delegation to notify him that they will not stand for Eric the Red. List the Lucky or any other variety of Swede herring in to take away from Christopher Colombo the screen credit for having discovered America.

On the other hand the Swedes and the Dutch both say that they are going to insist on front-page publicity for their part in the settlement of America.

Nothing has been heard from the Spaniard, who had been here long enough to have established universities about a century before the Mayflower was built.

TOO MANY MAYFLOWERS

Meanwhile let the excited "descendants of the Mayflower" take heart.

An answer has been discovered to the claim that all those claiming to have come over on the Mayflower couldn't have been crowded on the Leviathan.

It seems that there were several Mayflowers. A movie company seeking to construct an authentic model found a bewildering array of five or six Mayflowers, all under sail at the same time.

AMERICAN SHIPS

An expert on international commerce gives warning to a group of Los Angeles business men that the future of American industry depends upon foreign trade. And that our foreign trade must be carried in our own ships.

It looks like a rather dismal prospect.

It is not only that the La Polla Seamen's Act made it impossible for us to compete with vessels of foreign register; one of the worst handicaps under which we struggle is that our ships have so often to come home empty. This is particularly true of our trade with the west coast of South America.

The margin of profit is so small for American ships that one steamship line is able to keep on sailing between New York and Liverpool because it constructed a deck with special cranes that exactly met the hatches. Half a (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

LeRoy is one of filmdom's newest directors, having been promoted to his present position from that of a gag man on the Burbank lot. Miss Murphy and LeRoy met on the First National lot.

George Landy, director of publicity for First National, and McCormick will act as best men for LeRoy, while Colleen Moore will serve as matron of honor.

Wedding plans were formulated following the completion of LeRoy's second directorial effort since his recent promotion.

Commissioners Plan Improvement of West Basin; Wharfage to be Tripled, Channel Dredged

Harbor Commissioners yesterday revealed plans for a $1,000,000 dock, slip and pier development in West Basin, the first step in three years toward improving that important area for deep-water shipping. It was one of sixty items acted on by the commission, others of which assured a new yacht club, an oil loading station and important enlargements to Fish Harbor.

The West Basin project, for which the commission and the city have secured the necessary permits, involves a present frontage of 1782 feet. Into it would be cut two slips each 350 feet wide, leaving a pier 400 feet wide in the center, with wharfage berths on all sides. The improvement will provide berths for nine ships, whereas only three would be able to tie up at present. The improvement will also dredge the channel to a depth of 12 feet, and a deep water approach is contemplated, as deep water approaches are afforded only to plants in the west part of the basin.

OIL-LOADING STATION

A $50,000 loading station on the west side of the basin was authorized by the Western Oil and Refining Company, the work to be done privately.

PAYNE TOLD TO PAY GRAND JURY

Immediate Fees Settlement Ordered by Court

Auditor Declares He Will Stand on Refusal

Approximate Sum of $10,000 Involved in Row

Presiding Superior Judge Hardy yesterday issued an order directing County Auditor Payne to make immediate payments on two grand jury pay rolls, involving various investigating fees, which have been a storm center between Payne and the jury for several weeks since the Auditor refused payments because affidavits to the legality of the rolls were not signed.

Payne, advised of the court's order, said he had not received the document but would stand upon his former refusal temporarily until he has received further advice from County Counsel Mattoon. The sum involved is approximately $10,000.

FIGHT ON FOR WEEKS

The pay-roll storm broke several weeks ago, when Payne appeared before the grand jury and announced to the members that he would not recognize the matter until Grand Jury Auditor Miller had signed an affidavit testifying to the legality of the expenditures as prescribed by the code.

Another controversy between the Auditor and the jury developed when the grand jury wished to audit the books and records of the county flood control department and finance the audit with county funds. Payne announced then he would deliver the books and records for auditing at any time, but he would not finance the investigation with county funds.

GRAND JURY SCORED

During the deadlock Payne charged the grand jury had spent between $1,000 and $50,000 for investigations during its tenure of office, approximately $40,000 more than any grand jury in the history of the county has spent.

The County Auditor also charged that funds of the county had been spent by the jury in methods of investigation, especially pertaining to the museum and charities inquiries, which were outside the Penal Code governing expenditure of county funds by grand juries for investigations.

The whole affair went to the grand jury, and after short shrifts of investigation, continued in deadlock until Judge Hardy signed the order for recognition of the pay rolls.

Jealousy and Liquor Blamed by Police for Latest Wife Murder and Suicide Attempt

SHOOTING TAKES PLACE IN STORE

Tragedy Follows Husband's Plea for Reconciliation

Woman Wounded Five Times as She Tries to Flee

Slayer Expected to Die from Bullet in Chest

Jealousy and gin were blamed by police for the slaying yesterday of Mrs. Malone by her husband, John Joseph Malone, who turned the revolver on himself and inflicted a wound which police surgeons say will probably be fatal. Malone was taken to the George Washington Hospital and a bullet was removed from his chest.

John Joseph Malone, 31, was taken to the George Washington Hospital after being shot in the chest by his wife, Mrs. Malone, who was wounded five times. The shooting took place in a store at 331 East Twelfth street, where Mrs. Malone was employed. Malone was taken to the hospital and a bullet was removed from his chest.

TRIES TO ESCAPE

When Mrs. Malone refused his advances and accused Malone of being intoxicated, the man drew a revolver from his pocket. The woman made a frantic effort to save her life by rushing toward the rear of the store and had gained the rear door before Malone began firing. Her escape cut off by the blind partitions at the rear entrance, the young woman received five of the shots fired at her by Malone from an automatic revolver. He then turned the weapon upon himself and one bullet pierced his chest a few inches above the heart.

An incoherent note found in Malone's pocket after the tragedy indicated, police said, that he had been contemplating the shooting for some time.

Bertha Bell, 1208 South Flower street, and Emma Schanfield, 1690 West Fifty-first place, employees of the store who witnessed the shooting, told police that Malone admitted his wife's accusation that he was drunk and added that he would remain intoxicated until she returned to him.

DIVORCE PLANNED

Extensive investigation was to have been the basis of a contemplated divorce action by Mrs. Malone, her mother, Mrs. Emma Morrow, 244 North Vermont avenue, told police.

Malone has a police record. Detective Lieutenants Hickey, Stevens and Condon, of the Central Station homicide squad said. He was arrested in Oakland October 10, 1917, on a burglary charge and later in San Francisco for violation of the State Poison Act. No record of the disposition of the cases is on file here.

Malone is 30 years of age and his wife was 23, the girl's parents said.

Mrs. Malone has been living with a girl friend at a Ninth-and-Flower street apartment for the past month, and had kept her address secret because of fear of her husband, the protracted mother said.

Police were unable to learn Malone's address and, although conscious, he refused to answer questions.

WOLF PALS RIDE IN BACK SEAT OF CAR

Men Arrive With Trio of Animals to be Nucleus of Farm They Plan Here

A trip from British Columbia to Los Angeles by automobile with three timber wolves as occupants of the back seat may not be an inviting proposition to some motorists, but it held no terrors for William Becker and P. J. Enright, who completed such a journey yesterday. The wolves will be the nucleus of a wolf farm to be established in the mountains west of Calgary. He took them to his ranch at Grambrook, B. C., and there two pups were born. The father developed distemper and had to be left behind to recover, but the mother and the two pups, now 7 months of age and as large as sheep, were loaded into Becker's car and, secured only by light chains, the journey to Los Angeles was begun.

The car is an ordinary Volkswagen. Becker, Enright and their wolves are at the Lincoln Park Auto Camp while preparations are being made to get their wolf farm under way.

Mr. Sponder spent yesterday driving through the industrial and business sections of the city, and in informal talks with the leading publishers and educators of the Southland. lands," Harry Philip, vice-president of Broadway Department Store, Inc., said, "and the buyers seem to appreciate them because there is every indication that sales this year will even exceed those of last year."

Last year, it is recalled, was the greatest in the Christmas shopping history of the city. Sales ran an average of 15 per cent higher than the year before, which in itself set a record.

Tom May, vice-president of the May Company, is another who said business is ahead of last year. "I look for it to exceed the 1926 season," he said. "We are well prepared for the biggest December we ever had."

DEMAND FOR BEST

At Coulter's Dry Goods Company, the oldest in the city, General Manager George L. Binder, said: "They're buying the very best merchandise we have. I believe the trade will go higher than ever before."

"Our business," President Henry McKee of Barker Bros. Inc., said, "is exceeding every previous year in our history. In fact, the whole year will place us ahead of any year here. Buying is heavy and business is splendid."

At Harris & Frank Co., General Manager C. W. Hendrickson, said: "We are very optimistic over our prospects. People never had the opportunity like they have now to be pleased with our offerings. Our business last week was away ahead of the corresponding week of last year."

BUYERS RESPOND

"We have the best stock, including special Christmas articles and those for regular trade, that we ever had," R. G. Ogle, vice-president of Valle De Paris, said, "and the buyers seem to know it from the way they are coming in."

Vice-President T. C. Palmer of Walker's Fifth-Street Store, said: "We are enjoying a good, healthy Christmas business, no spectacular buying, but a good turnover. Our business is running well above what we are seeing substantial things, but they seem to have a good eye for the artistic, too."

"Our assortment never was better," General Manager George E. Nagel of Silverwood's said. "It's the best we ever have had. The Christmas trade has pleased us very much."

In the Mullen & Blisset store Assistant Manager R. G. Ogle, said, "The last two or three days of buying have been particularly heavy. We have considerable trade far and near for the best of our trade and have the best stock we ever had."

The Los Angeles Yacht Club's application for a lease on three acres at the north end of the fill in the west part of the Outer Harbor also has been approved and is now before the club will erect a pretentious clubhouse, pier and other features.

Other action by the commission yesterday included: Approval of the specifications for paving along the new berth at 280-D and equipping of the structure formerly occupied by the California Provision Company to the Los Angeles Steamship Company for a cold-storage plant and the paving of Tuna and Ways streets.

The commission also indicated it will submit to the Council its proposal for a thirty-year lease of the Los Angeles Cotton Compress and Warehouse Company. Insufficient data had caused the Council previously to defer ratification.

Beach Features Hold Appeal for City Membership

Confirmation of a report published exclusively yesterday in The Times that the Los Angeles Athletic Club has made an offer to take over the Pacific Coast Club's $1,500,000 bond and beach-front property at Long Beach was had yesterday with the announcement by officials of the former organization that negotiations have been under way for some time between the two organizations looking toward an affiliation or possibly an amalgamation of the two organizations.

The announcement of the contemplated change in the ownership of the Long Beach club, or a plan whereby both clubs would operate under a single management, followed a discussion of the situation in Long Beach yesterday, when directors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the Pacific Coast Club met at the directors of the Pacific Coast Club.

STRONG COMBINATION

The Los Angeles Athletic Club is one of the strongest institutions of its kind in the city. The Pacific Coast Club, located at 889 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach, is considered one of the most beautiful and complete in the country and in addition to being a beach club is a metropolitan athletic and social club. A few months after the Long Beach Club opened financial difficulties were encountered, according to officials of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and the membership became somewhat divided on future policy. Following much discussion, officials of the Pacific Coast Club and Los Angeles Athletic Club have decided that a coalition of the two clubs will be the solution of the pressing problems of the organization.

TALK OLYMPIC GAMES

At the meeting yesterday the development of a yacht harbor and yachting in connection with the Pacific Coast Club under the new arrangements was discussed. According to the announcement, together with the possibility of bringing to Long Beach the Olympic Games, the Pacific Coast Club has decided that a coalition of the two clubs will be the solution of the pressing problems of the organization.

Present from the Los Angeles Athletic Club at the luncheon conference yesterday were William May Garland, president; Frank A. Garbutt, vice-president; J. Danby Day, treasurer; Charles F. Byron, secretary; Basil C. Hall, assistant secretary, and directors, Harry Chandler, Robert Marsh, Harry Halstead, Bernal H. Dyer and Edwin Gilbert.

From the Pacific Coast Club: Frank E. Wall, president; H. P. Treasler, vice-president; Carl E. Pratt, secretary; Julius Blum, treasurer, and directors, Edgar F. Davis, Nelson McCook, Ralph H. Cook, A. L. Parmer, John W. Dool, pen. sec., Merrill, David M. Smith, Glenn E. Thomas, Charles F. Ross, Charles H. Tucker and C. C. Lewis.

Two Captured on Charges of Running Aliens

Failure of Lino R. Trejo and Jose Garcia to heed a sign placed across the road near Westmoreland by United States immigration agents and a subsequent chase resulted in the capture of the two yesterday. It was stated, were arrested in the back of the car.

The government agents fired shots at the car of the two men and finally stopped them when the two halted because the agents' car was in their path.

The government agents assert that the two arrested had smuggled in numerous Chinese, but heretofore had not been caught, because of advanced knowledge of the whereabouts of the agents.

Emissary Pays Fine for Denny

Dispatching an emissary to the city traffic court, Reginald Denny, cinema actor, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding thirty-four miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone on Vine street near the city hall on November 28, last, and was fined $15 by Municipal Judge Valentine. He also paid $5 for having no operator's license.

The proxy, in the form of an assistant director, whose name was not named, explained that Denny was engaged fighting a forest fire to save his cabin in the hills and could not appear in court yesterday. A bench warrant had been issued for his arrest.

TUJANA

If Tu Juana is determined to occupy a permanent place on the front page I wish they would learn to spell the name.

It is an Indian word, meaning unknown—and it is spelled Tujana. The old joke about it meaning "Aunt Jane" is out of season. The general supposition is that the meaning of the Indian word is "near the sea."

DINNER FOR CLUB

Members of the Masonic Club of Los Angeles are to be entertained with a dinner-meeting by the Club Activities Council at 8 o'clock tonight in Masonic Club headquarters, 619 South Grand avenue. A bridge party is to follow the dinner. The activities of the Council, this is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Col. Philip A. Moore of Washington, will deliver a lecture on "Wild Animals at Home," illustrated with motion pictures, at the club tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

ARMED BANK BANDIT GETS SMALL SUM

Only Employee in Branch on Western Avenue Held Up and $300 Taken

A bandit who waited patiently outside the Bank of Italy branch at 8807 South Western avenue yesterday until the assistant cashier, E. B. French, was alone in the place, obtained a sum estimated by bank officials at between $200 and $300.

The employee was working in his cage when the man, a trolley dressed chap about 35 years of age, French said, who appeared to be a veteran at robbing banks, thrust a gun in his face and forced him to hold out his hands, while the bandit securely bound them with adhesive tape. Crumpling all the paper money in sight into his pocket, still menacing French with the revolver, the bandit backed out, jumped into his automobile and disappeared.

Detectives believe he is the same man who robbed another branch of the Bank of Italy last Saturday, according to the description given by French. This fact may lead to his apprehension, they say.

Bank officials say the loss is fully covered by insurance. They have posted a reward of $1000 for the bandit, dead or alive.

AIR CRASH IN ARIZONA DISCLOSED

Radio Operator Reveals Fate of Plane Searching for Film Party

By "Times" Staff Correspondent SANTA MONICA, Dec. 5.—Word that the plane piloted by Lieut. Walter K. Burgess from Clover Field, Santa Monica, in a search last week for the Gray-Pathe exploration expedition in the Colorado River gorge, had crashed near Camp Pecos, Ariz., with no injuries to its crew of three men, was received here on the return of Lieut. Dean Parran, radio operator of the searching party. The plane is said to have crashed shortly after taking off when, at an altitude of 600 feet, Pilot Burgess attempted to turn. The plane lost altitude rapidly, according to the report, and landed in a clump of piñon trees.

With Burgess and Parran was Paul Brown, Glover Field airplane mechanic. When reports are completed on the damaged ship, it will be flown back here, according to the report. Lieut. Parran has returned to duty at Gray Field, San Francisco.

STREET ACTION DUE TODAY

The confirmation of assessments on the opening, widening and extending of Flower street from Washington street to Thirty-eighth street will be considered by the Council today along with confirmation of assessments on the opening of Casador Drive, improvement of the street from Whittier Boulevard and the improvement of Mathews street and Ross street improvement district.

BEACH OIL-LAND FIGHT HAS LULL

Complaints over the tide lands which no court can destroy. "Permits granted to strangers to the tide" would in effect be stated, be an abridgment of these assessments. Therefore only the "tidal owners" can legally be given drilling permits, he argued.

OTHERS TO SUPPORT WHEAT

Attorney Jerry Powell, representative of another group of interests in conflict with the State and the other parties, offered similar arguments in support of the act. Both he and the two attorneys who spoke before him declared that oil drills on the beach would not conflict with navigation and fisheries. Clarke said that there have been oil wells in the area since the construction of the beach for thirty years and they have not interrupted commerce or fishing.

It was the contention of Attorney Powell that the State has no right to grant the permits because it holds title to the lands in trust for the people of the State for the free use for navigation and fisheries and adjacent lands and that they would damage adjacent lands and fisheries and destroy fish and the beauty of the coast line.

Among those who obtained permission to file analyses earlier were Arthur B. Smiley and Alexander T. Scholer, representing the Southern California Land Company and the Piedmont Land and Cattle Company, and Eugene Overton, counsel for the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company. They will support Attorney Powell's contention that the Mining Act is unconstitutional.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul is the longest electric railroad in the world, the certification now totaling 655 miles.

HEALTH AND DIET

ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, submitted to him by mail, in this column, addressed under the name of "Health."

A GOLDEN FRUIT

Last month, in my article about tomatoes, I referred to the fact that the Italians call the tomato the "Golden Apple." The orange is another golden fruit, which is bringing rich returns in increasing the health of every one who uses this fruit, and also bringing good returns to the orange growers.

The use of oranges and orange juice has increased so rapidly in the last few years that during the season of 1925 and 1926 over $100,000,000 were poured into the State of California alone, for oranges and orange fruit. Besides the California production of citrus fruits, large quantities are raised in Arizona, the Mississippi Valley and in Florida.

The first oranges raised on the North American continent were those which were brought to Florida by the early Spanish settlers, while the first navel oranges were planted in California in 1873.

The growth of the citrus industry in the United States is due to two principal factors: first, the efficient co-operative organization of the fruit growers and second, the growing knowledge that oranges are a healthful fruit.

Only a few years ago oranges were considered a delicacy, to be used around the holidays, but now you see oranges and orange juice being served at the tables of every good restaurant, club, hotel and cafeteria.

On a recent lecture tour through the United States and Canada, I made a point of noting the number of diners who used oranges for their breakfast. On the Pullman diners and in the large hotels it would surprise many of you to know that at least seventy-five out of a hundred used either oranges, orange juice, or grapefruit as a part of their regular breakfast. I know it will surprise you as it did me, even though I knew the use of orange juice was increasing rapidly. These figures I am giving you from my actual observation as I sat at breakfast and looked over the food at the other tables.

One morning at a medium-priced cafeteria in an eastern hotel I sat where I could watch the people passing along the counter and filling their trays. I counted the first 100 who passed, and found by actual count that eighty-seven and some kind of citrus fruit on their trays. Of course, these figures would not hold true in the lower-priced restaurants, because many people consider that orange juice is too expensive for those with small incomes.

The price of citrus fruit is not likely to change very much because of the cost of producing this valuable fruit. One who has been in the business of producing citrus fruit for many years has said that he cannot afford orange juice in addition to other foods at a meal might be wise in actually making an entire meal of oranges or grapefruit, and leaving out the other foods.

In tomorrow's article I will explain more about the orange as a health food.

HIGH HONORS GO TO UTAH STEER

Boy's Entry at Stock Show Grand Champion

Longyear Hereford Given Carload Award

Brisk Bidding Expected at Auction Today

Large crowds visited the Los Angeles Stock Yards yesterday to follow the course of the judging. Perhaps the greatest interest was displayed when the steer grand championship was awarded to a Hereford entered by Omni Winterston, a boy from Charleston, Utah. The designation of grand champion carload of steers went to the Hereford baby steers shown by W. D. Longyear.

The awards were widely distributed, particularly in the swine entries, and the special prize of $125 offered by the Federal Cold Storage Company for the best national of hogs grown in the state of California went to Stalling Brothers of Farmington, N. M. The Cudahy special of $100 for the best car of hogs grown in California was awarded to D. M. Dorman of Los Angeles, president of the Crescent Society.

Today the auction sales begin at 10 o'clock, and lively bidding between the buyers for the packers, butchers and restaurants for the prize-winning stock is promised.

SWAPS HUBBY FOR GAS STATION

Wife Emerges from Tangled Divorce Case Without Decree Though Minus Spouse and Plus His Business, Annexed by "Calling Bluff" in Court

Ethelyne Hardee and Mrs. Lillie Morell

Although her husband was given the decree of divorce she sought, Mrs. Lillie Morell took over her husband's business as the result of the divorce trial in Superior Judge Sproull's court yesterday.

Mrs. Morell charged that her husband, Jack Morell, who has a filling station at 8336 South Broadway, treated her with cruelty, had a bad temper and that she was unable to live with him.

Her sister, Ethelyne Hardee, testifying in her behalf, said Mrs. Morell had told her she did not want to live with her husband any longer. On the strength of this the court gave the husband the decree on the grounds of desertion.

Morell, in answer to his wife's contention that he had property and business valued at $4500, declared he would sell what interest he had for $200.

Following the conclusion of the trial, Attorney C. A. Stice for the plaintiff investigated Morell's business offer and the result was Mrs. Morell bought her husband's filling station and she and her sister Ethelyne will operate it.

REFORMED RIVERS
Engineers developing a hydroelectric power plant near San Pablo, Calif., caught a couple of "ivers" which had the habit of flowing westward, reformed them to flow east, and then led the waters by a series of dams and siphons over a mountain range to the peninsula.

Now the plant has an effective head of 700 feet, produces a 100,000 horsepower and can generate 800,000, and the annual runpage of the rivers, which once resulted in flooding nine square miles of valuable land within the city, have been squelched.

That Community Sale
If ever there was a worthy philanthropy, it is that community sale where all articles are contributed by the various institutions and organizations of the city. Here are gathered articles made by the blind, by crippled children of the Orthopedic Hospital, and elsewhere—institutions which not only are curing inmates, but are teaching them to maintain themselves when cured. The articles offered at that sale are really interesting and gift-worthy—wantable. Too often one buys, simply because the cause is good and wishes to assist; but here are things one would wish for. Hand-loomed bags, truly artistic, unusual baskets, rugs and mats—many useful as well as lovely pieces. Notable are the Christmas cards made by a disabled veteran, the pictures of watercolor stained by the use of tiny bits cut from postage stamps. Wet-weather door mats are being made by the blind, and are being sold as they are from rope knitted by hand artistically. Part of one's gift-money, and a generous part, surely should be expended here—and to save time—I must tell you, the place—in the Klinker Building, Broadway at First.

Emergency Money
One of the wisest shoppers I know, always saves what she terms her "emergency fund," for last-minute discoveries in the gift line. "Something new and thrilling always appears at the last moment," said she, "and one wishes one needed one more gift; so I prepare for this, saving a fund for the purpose."

Things Chinese
"I consider this the finest store of its kind in the city," said the connoisseur, "and as fine as any Chinese store anywhere. And we find it eyes upon recent imports in the way of rare ivories, carved jades, rich embroideries and other creations of genius oriental. Not a few of the smallest of one's gift sums, here can attain to something so very different, so very interesting."

Fabulous
They have named it after Asop, probably because all articles offered are so fabulous—in that "Two Girls" gift shop. Quaint potteries, cards and banners singularly appropriate, books not usually found in shops, handwork of the better sort—scores of gift things are there. The shop, itself, is interesting—a tiny place approached by a short, straight-up stairway leading to a shelf-like space, wedged in between the larger downtown stores.

HINT OF FASHION
Paris sponsors the Zouave skirt for fall and winter wear. Velvet hats are often made in two shades of the same color.

Sheer metal and velvet brocades are used for formal blouses. Pottery red is a new tone between burgundy and egg plant.

Fine handwork is employed on sheer linen handkerchiefs. A new robe de style is finished with a very wide transparent hem.

For sports the rough woollens, tweeds, leathers and jerseys are worn. A greater elaboration is shown in all types of this season's costumes. Metal chain belts are one of the season's smartest dress accessories.

Skunk, wolf and fox are good wearing furs for the business girl's coat. Some of the newest gloves are machine stitched in contrasting shade. The continued use of black has softened the style for costume jewelry. The smart new shades in brown are leaf, maroon, mahogany and rust. Small feather ornaments, usually over one ear, are noted on small hats.

Boudoir costumes reflect the formal mod. The turban is one of this season's best sellers. Strass embroidery is used on velvet gowns.

Tunic skirts are a feature of many new gowns. New costumes have satin skirts and woolen blouses.

The leather-trimmed felt flower is a new novelty. Felt hats are considered most chic for sports wear.

Small tweeds are more in demand than ever before.

An innovation of this season is the "sweater" blouse.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Olive Gray
Firsting Your Gift
Such a thrill about the first Christmas gift that arrives! A gift sent early carries something more than the gift of the season's greeting. It seems to say that the donor was anxious to give—impatient to thus express admiration, love, affection or respect. So different from the last-minute gift—perfunctory, grudging, bereft of buoyancy. Almost as negatively as an after-Christmas present, hastily picked up to pay a debt in the last-minute gift.

A Don't Send
If a Christmas-gift exchange ever is instituted, I'll wager that writers will arrive early with cart-loads of pencils to exchange for something useful. The first thing thought of as a gift for a professional writer, is a fountain pen or a pair of glasses. They are fancy items in gold, enamel and ivory—the more elaborate, the worse. There is one exception, however, when writers use pencils, that time long has been lost in the archives of history. And pens went out, just after they had been declared themselves "mightier than the sword." "Copy" written with pen or pencil scarcely counts for much. A pen in a basket—so blind it would be. Writers "think" on their machines, never touching pen or pencil, unless it may be to "out" something, or to "start" something in.

A Not-Vain Vanity
One of the latest arrivals, at Paris brotherly jewelry store, where Paris contributes her most modish fads and fancies, is a vanity purse, flat in shape and fashioned from the most beautiful of silk and metallic brocade. Within its sumptuous appliances for milady's beauty use, and one article exceptional—a cigarette lighter of the better sort, framed in the same rich brocade and set in the face of it a lovely little watch! "Time to smoke," says this adorable little clock.

Concerning Veidt's Appearance
In the film version, it is known that Veidt and Jennings have long been close friends, and that both have desired to work together in this country as they did in Germany. Universal is being asked to loan Veidt to Paramount, and if he can finish "The Man Who Laughs" in time to appear in the Jennings vehicle, he doubtless will.

Charles E. Rogers Leaves
Accompanying Clifford B. Hawley and Richard A. Rowland to New York on Tuesday night was Charles E. Rogers, first national producer of the Ken Maynard series of Westerns, who is coming east to make a business trip.

Mr. Rogers' chief reason for the trip to New York is to take his last feature, "The Shepherd of the Hills," back with him. First National officials are said to be highly pleased with the picture, and the announcement of the names of his two specials, and also to announce the names of a new star whom he is to feature in four pictures typifying the ideal American boy. Rogers will be gone about two months. He will return by way of Havana and Palm Beach.

Lion Runs Amok
Lions just will be lions, take it from Jacqueline Logan and her director, Harmon B. Weight, and more especially from the colored actor on whom the lion being tamed in "Midnight Madness" directed particular attention. But it was on the colored man in the picture yesterday that took fright at sight of all the lions and a big surprise. The lion's keeper, who was in the De Mille studio, and a dashing hitler and you, yesterday a frightened lot of actors. But it was on the colored man that the lion bestowed his special attention, and that one just naturally ran up the side of the studio building like a fly, according to the story. There he remained until the lion's keeper corralled the animal.

Bodil Roaring in It
Bodil Roaring, who won new interest for her work with her outstanding performance in "Sunrise," has been signed by Robert Kane for the important role of the wife in "Move On," in which Chester Conklin is to be featured as the husband. The Danish actress has best opportunity since her debut in pictures three years ago.

Bryant Washburn Regrets
Everybody remembers of course when Bryant Washburn made his great hit in "Skinner's Dress Suit." That was several seasons ago when Washburn was with Essanay.

Now the identical story is to be made with the identical star, this time by F. B. O., who made the announcement yesterday. The story is in keeping with the snapshooting of present-day times, name of the vehicle, however, will be changed to "Skinner's Big Idea."

Len Shores will direct the story, which has been adapted by Matt Taylor.

Walter Hiers Travels
Walter Hiers is traveling again. He is now in Portland, Or., where he is acting as master of ceremonies at anniversary going in the Broadway Theater. Following a week in that city he will go to Seattle, Wash., where he will perform similar duties for the Fifth Avenue Theater. He will return to Hollywood before Christmas.

THE NEW FLASHES

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Olive Gray
Firsting Your Gift
Such a thrill about the first Christmas gift that arrives! A gift sent early carries something more than the gift of the season's greeting. It seems to say that the donor was anxious to give—impatient to thus express admiration, love, affection or respect. So different from the last-minute gift—perfunctory, grudging, bereft of buoyancy. Almost as negatively as an after-Christmas present, hastily picked up to pay a debt in the last-minute gift.

A Don't Send

Patriot, which is a drama by A. Neumann.

Woman Driver Exonerated in Traffic Death

A coroner's jury yesterday declared that the death of C. F. W. Murnau, 37 years of age, Alhambra, Calif., who was struck by a car driven by Mrs. M. J. Pomeroy, 1828 North Grove avenue and Sunset boulevard, at the intersection of those streets, was due to an avoidable accident.

Mrs. Pomeroy was convicted of blame by the jury which pointed out that Murnau was crossing the street at an improper place, which was not expected to be used by a car.

George Knight, a 15-year-old boy, Brighton, Calif., is claimed to be the world's youngest deep-sea diver.

"SUNRISE" PAVES THE WAY

It is safe to say that the whole motion-picture industry has awaited the coming of F. W. Murnau's "Sunrise" with much more than casual interest due not only to the fact that it is Murnau's first Hollywood-produced picture, but also to the fact that it is a deliberate attempt to set a new standard.

Seldom have so many novelties been injected into one production as have found their way into this picture at the Caribay Circle Theatre. "Sunrise" is not without subtleties, but is yet unique by the fact that it has only twenty-four.

THREE BIG PICTURES DUE SOON

Three much-discussed motion-picture features will have their Los Angeles premieres shortly after the opening of the new year. "Wings," "The Student Prince" and "The Patent Leather Kid" have all been booked for early showings.

"Wings," a Paramount production dealing with the great war as it was waged in the air, will open at the Biltmore Theatre in mid-January. This picture, which has attracted considerable attention during its New York engagement, features Charles Rogers, Richard Arlen and Clara Bow. It will be the second motion-picture production to be presented at the Biltmore. "Ben Hur" had a long run there last season.

Slapstick Comedy HAS FIRST VIEWING

"A Sailor's Sweetheart" Filled With Absurdities; Sketch Scores Dramatically

The adventures of Louis Fazenda in the character of an old maid school-teacher suddenly bequeathed an inheritance, are related in slapstick yet in "A Sailor's Sweetheart," Warner Brothers production given a first showing at the Tower Theatre yesterday.

Clyde Cook is seen in the role of the sailor, a ludicrous-looking, solemn-minded individual. Other members of the cast include William Demarest, Myrna Loy and John Miljan with Lloyd Bacon directing from a scenario by Harvey Gates.

Man Woman and Sin

John Gilbert and Jeanne Eagels in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

Marc McDermott and Jeanne Eagels in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

Who may or may not be discussing pearls which may or may not be all they seem, are cast with John Gilbert in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

ACTS ENLIVEN FORUM BILL

Those who go to make up the entertainment for the stage offering current at the Forum include Marnette and Lee, harmony singers; the O'Farrells, giving a line of comedy patter and singing; Dizzy Funk, a horse operated by two boys with flying feet; Hannah and Katter, a man and a woman who sing "Blues" numbers and do acrobatic dancing; and Hazel Thorpe, harpist. The array of talent is embellished with the Forum orchestra.

"The Fighting Eagle," on the screen, is a story of Napoleonic times in France. It thrills, has beauty, charm, drama, comedy, the management declares.

Comedy Settles "Gaucho" Will to Lengthy Run

Edward Clark's "Relations" is paving the way for what looks like a long-run record for the Hollywood, the theater advises steadily. This diverting comedy drama is on the threshold of its fifth week at the Vine-street Theatre and gives every indication of remaining there for several weeks more.

Clark hit upon a happy idea for a play when he created the character of Uncle Wolf and surrounded him with a lot of scheming, conniving and a touch of the old man's business and gave the way for all sorts of domestic complications.

"Naked Truth" Plays Return

"The Naked Truth," sponsored by the Public Welfare Pictures Corporation, begins its engagement at Tally's Broadway Theatre, Monday, with a week's showing of the film for women only.

The return engagement is limited and will feature the film last spring audiences due to the somewhat delicate nature of the subject. Over 20,000 "wowed" views of the film last spring at the Orange Grove Theatre at special performances. It is said.

FLIMSY STORY BEING IMPROVED FOR FILMS

Richard Wallace, who directed "Madden's Flat," is concentrating on the screen version of "Lady Be Good," his next directorial effort. A significant feature in both these stories is that each achieved success on the stage before being brought to the screen.

Wallace is preparing the screen version of "Lady Be Good" will infuse an abundance of whimsical comedy situations that should improve the popular appeal of the opera—much on the stage had no story worth the name.

WAMPAS STAR TO BE GUEST AT PANTAGES

Natalie Kingston, brunette Wampas Baby Star, will make a personal appearance Friday night at Pantages, in connection with the showing of "The Harvester," in which she plays the featured role.

Miss Kingston is now busy at work playing a leading role in the present Frank Borzage production starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, stars of "Seven Heavens," the latter a forthcoming attraction at Pantages.

Man Woman and Sin

John Gilbert and Jeanne Eagels in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

Marc McDermott and Jeanne Eagels in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

Who may or may not be discussing pearls which may or may not be all they seem, are cast with John Gilbert in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Metropolitan's latest screen feature.

WIND UNCOVERS RUM CARGO

Two on Truck Arrested as Result of Lifting of Tarpaulin

It was an ill wind that came up suddenly yesterday morning and tore away a tarpaulin that covered the load on a truck driven along Long Beach Boulevard by John Seagione and Peter Pallacchio, they told Federal Agent Harris.

The action of the wind, according to Agent Harris, disclosed numerous bottles and demijohns, which, it is reported, contained sixty-five gallons of liquor wrapped in Christmas adornment.

The two men were arrested for violating the Volstead Act.

FIERY DEATH RINGS SHACK OF RECLUSE

Firemen Fight Frantically as Flames Burn Lonely Hermit's Body to Crisp

Trapped in his lonely shack in the rear of 433 Stanford avenue, a possible exit blocked by smoke and flame, William Carlisle, 60-year-old hermit, was burned to death yesterday. Firemen fought frantically to rescue the doomed man, but his body was burned to a crisp before aid could reach him.

Starting in a garage behind 433 Stanford avenue, the fire swept along a line of sheds and other small structures and caught the tiny home of Carlisle as he lay asleep inside. Police and firemen believe the aged recluse must have been awakened by the roaring flames to find he could escape only by plunging through the fiery curtains which surrounded him on all sides. Probably dazed and half blinded by smoke and panic, he lost consciousness and dropped to the floor.

Neighbors managed to identify the charred body, but could give no information as to relatives or friends. He never seemed to have visitors, received no mail and apparently was alone in the world, they told Detective Lieutenants Stevens and Hickey. The body is at the county morgue.

Council Denies Street Protests

Protests against the following improvements were denied yesterday by the Council: Lonsdale avenue between Peris and Ricardo streets, Wildwood Drive between Holden street and Lonsdale avenue, Future street between Burnell Drive and Lonsdale street, Hayhurst street between Salsbury street and Victory boulevard and Mission Road between North Broadway and North Main street.

Assessments were confirmed on the improvement of Redondo Boulevard between Venice and Washington boulevards and the improvement of Marvin avenue between Venice Boulevard and Adams street.

WEDDING IN YUMA BALKS ANNULMENT

Judge Finds Woman Who Sues in Same Plight as Mate With Another Wife

Judge Brown thought that Yuma was a queer place to go to get married, so he asked Mrs. Nancy Sears why that town had been selected by herself and William E. Sears for celebration of the nuptials.

Mrs. Sears was in court to have those same nuptials declared a nullity on the ground that Sears was in no legal position to wed, having another wife in Australia at the time.

She answered Judge Brown's question frankly and unapologetically.

"Well, you see, judge, I had just got a divorce myself, so we thought it would be best to get married out of the State," she said.

This statement spilled the beans. Judge Brown pointed out she was in no better legal condition to marry than Sears, inasmuch as she had but an interdictory decree from her first husband.

"It looks to me as if you both have committed bigamy," Judge Brown declared. "This case will go off calendar."

And there the matter is left, the court not indicating what disposition will be made of the case.

UPSETTING TESTIMONY IRKS WOMAN

Mrs. Fraser Too Excited to Remount Stand in Divorce Case

Indignant over the testimony of Fred F. Francis, cousin of Earl A. Fraser, who contradicted a portion of her testimony that she was in no condition to testify when recalled to the witness stand by attorneys for her husband, Mrs. Lillian Fraser became so upset last afternoon that she was in no condition to testify when recalled to the witness stand by attorneys for her husband. The case suddenly was adjourned until this morning to allow her to regain her composure.

Mrs. Fraser had testified that Francis had showed her how Mrs. Jean Scholtz, one of the women mentioned in connection with her husband, had climbed up a ladder from the basement of the Ocean Park bathhouse when Mrs. Fraser had sought her. Francis denied he had shown her anything in regard to Mrs. Scholtz by sight.

Mrs. Lillian Fraser, a neighbor of the Frasers when they lived in Imperial Valley, told of trips Mrs. Fraser made to Brawley, to refute her testimony that she had made only one trip.

Mrs. E. L. Prentice, sister of Fraser, declared Mrs. Fraser had a violent temper and during the early part of her married life cut her shoes, tore up valuable clothing and even articles in a rage. She denied that Mrs. Fraser had handled Fraser's business for him. She admitted she had married in 1909 and gone to Denver, Col., to live, until recently.

Cunningham, 29, 567 South Fremont avenue, were arrested on suspicion of forgery and grand theft by Detective Lieutenants Mathis, Dearsford and Kelly yesterday after the two were asserted to have forged the names of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thurn, acquaintances, in a fictitious trust deed and then sold the deed at the office of the Billingsby Mortgage Company, 1131 North Western avenue.

Knowing the Thurns held property in a La Palma land tract, Miss Haskins and Cunningham took advantage of their absence in Colorado on a vacation to get up the forged deed and sell it, detectives said.

Untouched Resources of Manchuria Attracting Attention of World

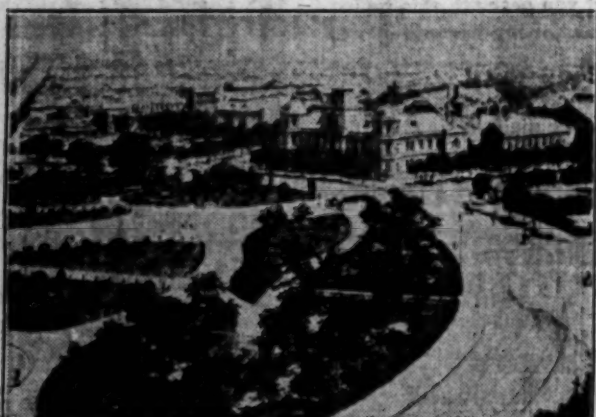

THE awakening and development of Manchuria, that vast stretch of Asia, rich beyond imagination in natural resources, is the subject of a series of articles written by Bailey Millard and reproduced on the editorial pages of the Times. Manchuria, little known to the western world, is pictured generally as a region of wilderness or desert; as a matter of fact, it is one of the most fertile areas in the world and may be compared with the region between the Mississippi River and Pacific Coast as it was regarded early in the nineteenth century. The photographs reproduced on this page were taken recently in the territory dealt with in Mr. Millard's articles.

Aged Litigant Who Sued Dentist Because Teeth Didn't Fit Throws Fit When He Loses Case and Whacks Defendant on Head With Cane

Enraged over a decision returned against him in a civil suit before Municipal Judge Bogue in the Small Claims Court, G. A. Carruthers, 85 years of age, yesterday threw the courtroom into an uproar when he wielded a heavy ebony cane over the head of Dr. A. R. Zimmerman, his opponent in the case.

As court attaches hammered for order, the aged man brought the cane down a second time on the head of Dr. Zimmerman, whom he had sued for $46.50 damages. Clerk Garvel Gutholt rushed to the aid of the physician and after a struggle succeeded in subduing the infuriated assailant and removed him from the courtroom.

Still yelling admonitions at the teeth did not fit.

dentist and calling him a "swindler and crook," Carruthers raced out of the Hall of Justice annex and was lost to view in the traffic.

Though no contempt of court proceedings were instigated against Carruthers by Municipal Judge Bogue, the victim announced he will file a charge of battery today at the City Prosecutor's office.

At the trial Carruthers contended he paid Dr. Zimmerman $46.50 for a set of false teeth, but later when they didn't fit, he requested return of the money. The civil suit resulted when the physician refused to make the refund.

Judge Bogue ruled against Carruthers, he said, because no proof was brought out to show that the teeth did not fit.

Obetz Love-Balm Suit Dismissed

Indicating a settlement out of court the $100,000 suit brought by Louis Allen Obetz against 63-year-old A. F. Christiansen for the asserted theft of the affections of Mrs. Ora Obetz, was dismissed yesterday in Judge Frick's court.

Mrs. Obetz now has pending in Superior Court a suit to annul her marriage to Obetz on the ground that she was practically bartered to him when she was 13 years of age.

HER DIVORCE SUIT NOW BEING HEARD

The divorce action of Mrs. Mildred Williams, wife of Frank D. Williams, inventor of the use of revolving mats and paintings in filming motion pictures, began before Superior Judge Wallace yesterday afternoon. She seeks the custody of their small daughter, Barbara Jane, and a community interest in her husband's property which she values at more than $400,000.

Mrs. Williams charges her husband with cruelty, that he has paid attention to other women and on one occasion, in 1924, was with another woman on a late automobile trip when they were held up and robbed on the highway. She testified he has on a number of occasions, expressed regret over the birth of their daughter and that he no longer shows her love or affection.

According to Mrs. Williams, her husband's income from his invention, which she says was used in "The Ten Commandments," is more than $100,000 a year.

According to the answer of Williams, who is resisting the suit, his wife continually nagged at him and ridiculed him while he was working late at nights on his invention. He declares she said that "anybody who married a person connected with the movies is a fool."

Attorneys J. Calvin Brown and Hulme, Hastings and Bartlett are appearing for the plaintiff and Attorneys Milton M. Cohen and Roger Marchetti for the defendant.

TRIO FREED IN SALE OF FILM STOCK

Southworth, Durham and Warden Escape Charges of Corporate Violation

Three charges of violating the State Corporate Securities Act were dismissed by Municipal Judge Westover yesterday against Orville V. Southworth, 1217 West Tenth street, and Charles A. Worden and George A. Durham, 6455 Fernwood avenue, following the motion of Dep. Dist. Atty. Choate.

Attorneys David S. Rose and David H. Cannon, representing the defendant, sought to prove that Southworth had sold only his personal stock in Story Pictures, Inc., a Nevada corporation, and not corporation stock.

Mrs. Mary E. Cushing of 2712 West High street, testified that she was not approached by the defendants regarding the purchase of corporation stock but did buy several shares of Southworth's personal stock.

The trio was arrested on November 20, last. At that time, Southworth, who announced himself as president, said the organization was formed to produce historical motion pictures, among them being the story of the Monitor and Merrimac, John Paul Jones and others. Worden is vice-president, and Durham, general manager.

The testimony indicated that Mrs. Gunies ran across the boulevard in front of the car, just missing it, and fell as she reached the other side of the highway, injuring her knee. The defendant, had Dr. Charles Machy, Donald Parkinson, architect; Lawrence J. McNeil, building contractor, and Attorney Phillip B. Berry in the machine with him at the time.

A special section with a complete assortment of gift boxes, cards, seals, ribbons, tapes, etc., has been established on the Main Floor.

Accommodation Desk

This desk is maintained in conjunction with the Parcel Post Station. All packages will be cheerfully wrapped or packed for shipping without charge. Ordinary wrapping supplies are free. Special requirements in the line of fancy boxes, or ribbon must be presented with the package.

Delivery Service

(A prompt and efficient delivery service is maintained for your convenience.) Two deliveries a day are made to all parts of the city proper and immediate outlying districts. Daily deliveries cover a wide area—from Santa Barbara on the north to San Diego on the south—from San Bernardino on the east to the beaches.

Shipments

Shipment charges will be prepaid to any part of the United States for all merchandise purchased here. The Dyas Co. may be trusted to deliver your distant gifts attractively wrapped and with no embarrassing price tags or sales-slips.

Christmas Will Calls and Future Deliveries

Merchandise may be purchased now and held until Christmas for your further instructions. A 25% deposit will hold all C.O.D. purchases until Dec. 24th. Any instructions for future mailing made at the time of purchase will be faithfully followed.

Merchandise Bonds

Merchandise Bonds, Glove Bonds and Shoe Bonds are on sale at the Bond Desk on the various floors, the Cashier's Cage on the 5th Floor, and a special booth by the Olive St. entrance. They are a welcome boon to the perplexed shopper.

Engraving Desk

A special engraving desk has been established in the Sports Shop—Lower Street Floor where careful record is kept of all merchandise purchased here requiring engraving. Our merchandise line of engraving may be obtained free of charge.

Will Call and Check Desk

The tired shopper may check her packages at the Will Call Desk main floor. Merchandise purchased in any part of the store may be called for at this desk, one-half an hour after the time of purchase.
